Forecast for 1963

By ROGER BABSON
The business situation will be different in 1963, with different industries, different defense centers will boom; cities will still find the touch, . . . but better than last year. Considering the high of the past ten years it is not surprising for 1963 to show a moderate decline in sales. If so it should come in the second or third quarter, followed by a good 1964. Recovery in the fourth quarter. Responsible personal income will remain high. With increased savings deposits and little change in the cost-of-living, the public will continue to spend freely, especially if merchants maintain advertising outlays. The business situation will remain about the same during 1963. But government spending will increase over $3 billion — largely defense — and $2 billion on roads. Whether manufacturers will hike their expenditures on new machinery in 1963 in view of the depreciation tax credit, I would not now forecast.

mean, if they will be optimistic and spend more on new plants, advertising, and salesmanship, we should have nothing to fear. STOCKS AND BONDS
My father used to tell me, "It is okay, Roger, for you to make forecasts. . . but never put dates on them!" I forecast that the Dow-Jones Industrial Average will register lower come January during 1963 and stocks will show an average yield of about 4%. Either dividends must be increased or prices of stocks must go lower. Both cannot continue forever as poorly adjusted. The above comment refers primarily to industrial stocks. I forecast that both the gross and net earnings of utility stocks will advance during 1963 and for some years thereafter. The utility companies preferred have reached a point whereby they will reach a point whereby interest rates on bonds will follow the Federal Reserve Banks. The utility companies' stocks should slowly rise in price provided they are not unjustly limited by legislation or by state and federal regulatory commissions.

As for the railroad stocks, I generally feel bearish. A war with Cuba or a world nuclear war breaking out anywhere could cause the stocks of all our transcontinental railroads to go up sharply in price; but down they would come again. We are today in an electronic age and no longer in a railroad age. Those who desire to invest in common stocks should stick to the oils, chemicals, and electronics. Even then keep in mind Newton's Law of Action and Reaction which will always determine the time to buy and sell common stocks. Regarding bonds I am not pessimistic for 1963. Certainly, the non-taxable bonds will sell higher during 1963. Also, good short term corporation and government bonds will be safest to hold. Long-term corporation and government bonds may call for less come time during 1963. Long-term bond prices vary with interest rates and the probability of inflation.

BUILDING, REAL ESTATE:
There may be some declines in residential building in 1963; and chipping centers in many suburban developments may remain at a standstill for a while. However, so much money is piling up in savings banks which must be invested, it seems that by 1964 many more new homes will be built. In this connection when purchasing a house or business property, be sure to study the land, which usually improves in price while the value of the building declines.

When constructing new frame houses, build either single houses or houses with only two apartments on the ground floor. There will be considerable new building of brick apartment houses, which should keep filled so long as they are well maintained. Old apartments and old houses will decline in price during 1963.

The less attractive outlook for home building generally does not apply to government or public buildings, or to all commercial buildings. The real estate developers, however, must spend more on advertising in 1963 to meet the growing competition.

RETAIL TRADE

Naturally, there will be a seasonal lull in retail trade after Christmas and the holidays which follow Jan. 1. That will be the time to look for bargains. Scan the advertisements well. This especially applies to merchandise that depends more

LEON DOERFLEINS HAD BEST DOORWAY

Doerflein, McGinity, Favre lighting winners

The Leon Doerfleins, Pat McGinity and Mrs. Evelyn Favre captured top awards in the annual Christmas lighting contest sponsored by Bay-Waveland Garden Club. Mrs. Joseph Kern, chairman, announced this week.

Eighteen entries were received and judges toured the displays Sunday night. Serving on the judges panel were employees of the Corps of Engineers and Chrysler Corp. who have moved here within the last few weeks, according to Miss Veronica Mohr, co-chairman.

The Doerfleins won first place in the doorway division for their home. Modama display at their home, 437 Thomas St. Mr. and Mrs. McGinity took the rooftop prize with Santa falling head first down their chimney at 307 Delmonte. Mrs. Favre's over-all decorations in the front of her home on Hancock Street captured that prize. Honorable mention went to Mrs. Agnes Zengering, 339 Main St.; Mrs. L. L. Ward, 538 St. John St.; and Mrs. T. Horning, 175 Surf St., Waveland.

Jaycees elect Koenenn prexy

J. C. Koenenn was named president of the Jaycees succeeding Bert Stieff at the semi-annual election meeting last Thursday. He and other new officers will be installed at a banquet Jan. 12.

Also chosen were Bill Bresland, internal vice president; James Haverling, external vice president; Andre Arceneaux, secretary; Joe Kersanac, treasurer; Michael Haas, state director; and directors, Dr. M. J. Wolfe, Jr., Ed McCrystal and Joe Bermond.

Buy 13 tracts in buffer zone

Thirteen tracts in the easement area of the Mississippi Text Facility have been closed out since Dec. 15. O. B. Moore, project manager for the Corps of Engineers real estate office here, announced yesterday.

Transactions were: Charles Mitchell, 28.24 acres, $10,500; D. F. Stephens, 2 acres, $5,200; Edward R. Gray, .20 acre, $1,750; Donald R. LaBarre, .41 acre, $1,750; Glenda H. Bennett, .39 acre, $2,200; Roger L. Russell, .20 acre, $7,500; Gustie Bell, .20 acre, $7,500; S. McQueen, 2.35 acres, $6,000; R. E. Bridges, .20 acre, $4,750; William H. Hyde, .20 acre, $1,600; Margaret V. Wall, .20 acre, $1,750; Robert A. Shubert, 7.10 acres, $4,650; Eugene H. Neelke, .20 acre, $1,700; and Donald Franklin Stephens, .4 acre, $29,000.

Hawks trounce Bearcat cagers

Hancock North Central swept a basketball doubleheader from Long Beach Friday night at home winning 77-67 in the varsity contest after claiming a 46-30 junior varsity triumph.

Conrad Richard Cuevas potted the Hawk variety to their win, scoring 25 points. Forward Ben-Lin Linder clipped in with 16. Jimmy Sealy led Bearcat scoring with 22.

The Hawks pulled out on top 23-12 in the first quarter, led 39-28 at the half, and 59-48 after three periods.

The North Central JV had no trouble making the night a complete success. Wendell Linder scored 17 points for North Central, while Sperry topped Long Beach scorers with 13.

Zoning OK'ed for Waveland

A comprehensive zoning ordinance with official land-use map and zoning schedule for Waveland was adopted subject to a public hearing by Waveland Town Council last week. At least two weeks notice must be given before the public hearing which is now expected to be held sometime in February.

The unanimous action was taken at a meeting attended by representatives of the Waveland Planning and Zoning Commission and of Darblatt and Associates, planning engineers. Council made no major changes in the plan suggested by the planning commission, but in going over the proposed ordinance section by section with Town Attorney Dan M. Russell, Jr., and D. M. Darblatt the city fathers did make several modifications for legal reasons. These dealt with administrative details, appeal procedure and such.

Under the new law provision to make for existing non-conforming use of land and structures, for the granting of variances from the zoning regulations where literal enforcement would result in unnecessary hardship and for the procedure to be followed in making an appeal to the Board of Adjustment, which will be comprised of the Mayor and Aldermen ex-officio, as well as other details.

In addition, in the future applications for building permits must be accompanied by duplicate plans drawn to scale showing the dimensions of the lot, etc., one of which is to be returned whether approved or disapproved by the administrative official appointed by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen.

A maximum penalty of $100 fine or 30 days imprisonment or both is provided for violation of the ordinance with each day of violation.

Present for the signing were Mayor Garfield Linder, Aldermen Albert Grass, Tony Bessie, John Longo and Dominick Sander, planning commission members W. Ray Gordon, Joseph V. Colson and James C. DeBlanc, Russell and Darblatt.

OLG parents get report on library status

A report on the status of the library project was featured when the Parents Club of Our Lady of the Gulf Parish School met Dec. 18 with Dr. M. D. Horne presiding. Mrs. Frank Legarde, project chairman, said she hoped the library would be in shape to take parents on a tour of the facilities at the next meeting.

Sister Mary Edward, principal, told of the success of the coupon and trading stamp drive and various articles obtained for use of the playground and in the classroom.

Appreciation was expressed to Watson Johns for his work in repairing photographs and record players for use by the school. Announcements were made that Lucien Kidd will be chairman for the January dinner.

Sister Anne's and Miss Mary Seasholtz's classrooms tied for the Christmas prize. After the closing prayer, tea was served.

Hunting mishap costs boy eye

Seventeen-year-old Teddy Bilbo suffered the loss of one eye and extensive facial injuries in Hancock County's first hunting accident of the winter season.

Sheriff Gerald V. Price said the mishap occurred Saturday morning when Teddy and some friends were out shooting squirrels off Blue Meadow Road. Deputies Gerard Freeman and Donald Marquar reported the boy's gun apparently got tangled up in his coat, causing it to discharge accidentally.

Teddy was rushed to Hancock General Hospital for emergency treatment and transferred to Foundation Hospital in New Orleans, Mo. to the care of Mrs. Henry Carver.

Chances were no serious accidents in the county to mark the long Christmas week-end, the sheriff said, in spite of heavy fog on the highways. He urged motorists to exercise similar caution this coming weekend, particularly with the heavy traffic along U. S. 90 for the Sugar Bowl game in New Orleans.

Extensive investigation of reports that someone posing as a deputy sheriff has been arresting and fining motorists on U. S. 90 west of the scale has shown the complaint was a hoax, the sheriff reported. Law enforcement forces of the entire state were alerted in the case last week before the source was traced. A similar charge from a Pearl River County source is still under study. Price noted that all his deputies are instructed to bring any motorists they arrest to the Courthouse for booking and never, under any circumstances, to take money from alleged offenders on the road.

Meanwhile, Chief Deputy Gerald Price, Jr., Ford O'Neill of the State Highway Patrol and Bay Police Chief Alvin Seander were in Covington Wednesday in connection with the theft of the Western Union safe from Beach Economy Drug Store in a break-in there last spring.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK R. LADNER

Ladner-Schindler vows exchanged on Saturday

The wedding of Miss Beverly Jeanne Schindler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schindler, of Bay St. Louis, and Frank R. Ladner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt Ladner of Rt. 1, Pass Christian, took place at 11 a.m. Saturday at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with Rev. Michael Kelly officiating at the double ring ceremony. Arrangements of white mums decorated the altar.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of peau de soie, the sweetheart neckline outlined with pearl beaded re-embroidered Alencon lace. The full skirt extended into a chapel train and her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a seed pearl tiara. She carried a white orchid atop the missal and rosary, gift of the groom.

Miss Lyndall Schindler was her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Jackie Ginn, her cousin, was matron of honor. Miss Ursula Favre was bridesmaid. Their dresses were of American Beauty velvet with sweetheart necklines, Italian sleeves and bell-shaped skirts with flowers of the same material in the back. They carried white muffs with American Beauty rosebuds and their headpieces were seed pearl tiaras.

W. J. Cameron was best man. Groomsman were Warren Schindler, brother of the bride, and Kermit Sharp while Leo Schindler of New Orleans, uncle of the bride, ushered.

The bride's parents entertained afterwards with white mums, an imported cutwork linen cloth and crystal candelabras.

One down, maybe

The Mississippi legislature has finally passed a reapportionment plan to be submitted to the voters that has a reasonable chance of being acceptable to the courts. It may not be perfect but it is far preferable to the proposal voted down last month and, in our opinion, has noticeable advantages over the plan Chancellor W. T. Horton had indicated he would put into effect unless the lawmakers adopted a constitutionally valid scheme.

Where Hancock County is concerned it gives our county slightly more representation. As in the past we will have under this proposal one member of the house and will have a senator shared with Pearl River County in a very slightly enlarged senate instead of one shared with Pearl River and Lamar. It's just about what we rate.

We think the legislature should be congratulated but their ability to finally come up with a solution also points up the fact that our county governing body, the board of supervisors, should do the same. We still have one district, Beat 3, having more than two-thirds of the population paying three-fourths of the taxes with one-fifth of the representation. The disparity between it and some other beats will be heightened in 63's elections as a result of the NASA program here which leaves current Beat 2 with only four sections of habitable area and a handful of voters.

So far the board, which is to do anything has to be unanimous, has given no indication that it will ameliorate this disparity. As it now stands, for example, Beat 2's representative will have the same amount to spend on roads in a district that needs little for that purpose as will Beat 4's with his perennial multi-bridge, multi-road problem.

Consistently we have contended that a legislative body, in this case the supervisors, is better able to apportion its area than is the judiciary. Its members better understand the many undefinable factors that are involved in a truly fair solution. With the administrative organization of the county with its political plans scheduled to be decided at the board's next meeting on Jan. 7, the board has a golden opportunity to take this needed action, but its history indicates it will do nothing unless suits are brought.

While'll we are a week late in commenting on it, it's a fact that during our late unlamented frigid spell the cold cash in Merchants Bank was literally such. The heating system broke down.

Alphonse J. Lind

Alphonse Joseph Lind, 53, long-time resident of Bay St. Louis, was dead on arrival at Hancock General Hospital early Tuesday morning. A native of Hancock County, he was a member of Our Lady of Gulf Church and Holy Name Society.

He is survived by his wife, Lovina Lecher Lind of Bay St. Louis; six daughters, Mrs. Aline Gilbert of Denver, Colo., Mrs. Adele Hayden, Pass Christian, Mrs. Grace Allen, Baton Rouge, Mrs. Gloria Gilbert, New Orleans, Mrs. Bernadette Jones, New Orleans, and Vernette Lind, Bay St. Louis; two sons, A. J. Lind, Jr. and Michael Paul Lind, both of Bay St. Louis; three sisters, Mrs. Beulah McGinty, Mrs. Alena Garcia, and Mrs. Edna Poolson, all of Bay St. Louis; and 13 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at Our Lady of the Gulf and interment will be at Bayou La Croix Cemetery. The funeral home will be open at 6:30 p.m. today.

Mrs. Horatio Gross

Mrs. Horatio M. Gross, 77, mother of Albert M. Gross of Waveland, died Sunday night in a New Orleans hospital where she had been a patient since suffering a stroke Dec. 1.

She is also survived by two daughters, Mesdames F. W. Cleuter and Louis S. LeBlanc; three other sons, David J. Wilman, Jr. and Edward B. Gross; 15 grandchildren and 28 great grandchildren.

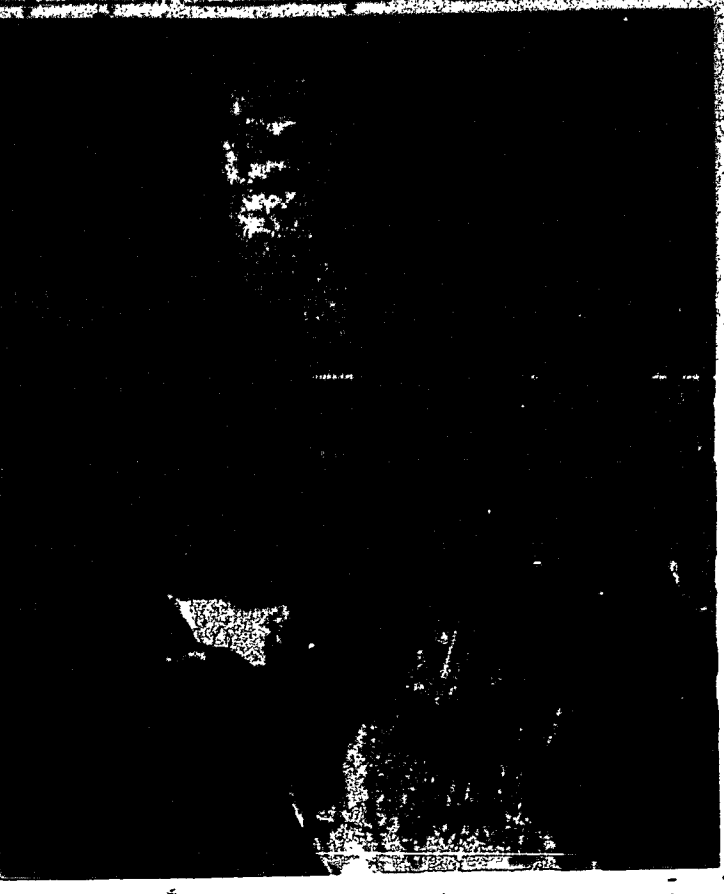

Services were Wednesday morning in New Orleans with burial in St. James Major Church and interment in St. Roch Cemetery No. 1.

Mrs. Jack Daugh

Funeral services were Dec. 14 in San Francisco, Calif., for Mrs. Jack Daugh, 41, the former Mary Jane Van Meter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Van Meter of Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Daugh, who died here in San Jose, Calif., is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. James Hart of Meridian, Miss., and two sons, Mrs. Frank Davis of Akron, Ohio, and Mrs. F. W. Baker of Orlando, Fla.

Funeral services at the Waveland Funeral Home, 112 S. Second St., will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the funeral home and interment in St. Roch Cemetery No. 1.

By Gone Days

25 YEARS AGO
Dec. 26, 1937 - City and school executives were concerned this week at the annual Christmas dinner sponsored by the Bay High home economics class and their teacher, Miss Helen Newsom. Dr. James Evans, president of the board of trustees, was master of ceremonies. Mayor G. Y. Blaise gave a brief address.

10 YEARS AGO
Dec. 26, 1927 - Waiters of the Hotel Reed sang Silent Night to highlight the annual Rotary Club Christmas Dinner and Party at the local hotel Dec. 18, Ben Hille, president, was in charge. Enamel plant..

During the early planning stages for the local plant, annual payroll was estimated between $250,000 and $300,000. But since operations began, due to increased employment, it has been over the annual rate of $450,000.

Guilbault said management felt the first year's operation would result in a loss. Actually the loss exceeded original estimates due to higher production costs by new and unskilled workers, expanded sales force and the extremely competitive sales market.

Industrial has direct sales representatives or dealers in Denver, Albuquerque, Tucson, Houston, Dallas, Cleveland, St. Louis, Kansas City, Baltimore, Richmond, Greensboro, Atlanta, Jacksonville, Tampa, Miami and New Orleans.

Since operation started industrial has used 241,445,000 cubic feet of natural gas—more than that used by 3,500 average homes in the same nine-month period. Over 4-million gallons of water is used monthly for general operations and the annual usage of steel sheets exceeds five million pounds.

Guilbault took occasion to express appreciation in behalf of the management to the local merchants and businesspeople for their cooperation in settling here.

E. M. Brignac of 920 South Beach is president of Industrial Enamel. In addition to Guilbault the management staff includes A. J. Sarrat, general sales manager; C. S. Monahan, office manager; P. W. Elstrom, plant superintendent; W. S. Washington, ceramic superintendent; P. H. Boudreau, superintendent of the sheet metal department; and N. H. Schindler, superintendent of the enamel department.

Bay Bowling Yule journey is in progress

Bay Bowling Center's annual Christmas Tournament opened Wednesday afternoon and will continue through Sunday. Winners of the tourney, a handicap event for all ages, will receive either trophies or cash prizes.

The city's women bowlers started the tournament off and rolling Wednesday afternoon, and the winner will receive a cash prize. Wednesday night, all men with an average under 135 were pitted in the same bracket, with that top score also to receive a cash prize.

All men in the 136-156 average bracket will bowl tonight and tomorrow night those with an average above 156 will compete. Both winners will receive cash prizes. Saturday bantam boys and girls will compete at 10 a.m. and Sunday junior and senior boys and girls will roll at 2 p.m.

Polly At Waveland

This week's installment will be sort of an off beat offering due to the fact that it must be completed before Christmas as we too are sneaking in a few holidays—but of course, by the time it reaches you, our readers, just about all that remains of Christmas will be tons of discarded wrappings, a shower of needles from the once glorious tree, broken toys and a prayer in your hearts—the prayer indubitably sounding something like this: 'Give me forbearance to last just another week until school starts once more.'

We know that there will be parties galore, but frankly haven't had time to find out who's entertaining when Grace and Sam Boudages will host their annual family Christmas Eve get-together—Josie and Clarence Herbig are holding open house the same night—Bea Georgi's honoring George at a birthday dinner Sunday night (more details on this later)—and the Fun After Forty Club is selling advance tickets to its first party since organizing two months ago. This fete, to be held at the Pine Burr Dec. 28 will offer just about the most for one small dollar of any such affair anywhere—ticket entitles purchaser to dance to a string band, eat lots of delicious sandwiches, snacks and the like and set-ups. It's BYOB, another economic factor!

Lots of happy birthday wishes to catch up on—Tutti Noto celebrated Dec. 11, Miss Rita Cue sent Norman Compretta an enormous white cake trimmed in pink rosebuds on his—Dec. 18, Don't know how Buddy Dufour observed his on Dec. 21, but greetings anyway. Maybe Ella Jensen took him riding in her brand new car???

Bay side of the news

Jenny Irapani always knocks herself out when it comes to decorating for Christmas but this year she's surpassed her past efforts. Her revolving white flocked tree is liberally hung with handmade crimson velvet balls sparkling with rhinestones, pearls and sequins—tiny white reindeer ring the top—most branches leaning up to a large angel and larger red velvet deer give the impression that they're turning the tree from the bottom. It's really fabulous. Shirley Lumphy has as holiday guests her sister and brother-in-law, Mary and Bill Walkinshaw of Jacksonville, Fla. Vi and Lloyd Cunningham and of course, daughter Barbara, left Saturday for St. Petersburg, Fla., where they will visit both families.

Smeloise advises

As any woman knows, dusting is not only one of the more irksome household chores, but it's also the one task that really shows results. Nothing peeps up a house more than gleaming furniture—this can detract wandering eyes from dull floors, filmy window panes and smudged woodwork. There are a couple of suggestions to speed up the process. First check each table, desk, etc. for unnecessary objects—empty vases, extra ashtrays and the like. Then pick up all dollies and dresser scarves and put them all either in a dark closet or better still, in the garbage can! Now take a cloth. Cotton panties, discarded because the elastic has lost its life, are excellent for this purpose as are those huge white sox teen-agers effect—spray thoroughly with any good liquid wax—spray directly on the cloth and one application will easily take care of an eight room house and without all of that extra junk to pick up you'll be amazed at the speed with which you've completed this distasteful bit of housework.

Welcome to Waveland

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Canaga, formerly of Ocean Springs who are making their home on Vacation Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thompson who moved into a home on Waveland Avenue. The Thompsons hail from Glenellen, Ill.

Deepest sympathy is extended to our good friend, Mrs. John Russell. Her brother Julius W. Vanden passed away last Monday after an extended illness.

Hope you're feeling better Margie Kempf—Margie entered Hancock General for a check-up and will be released minus her gall bladder.

It's good to see Mrs. Joseph Kelly home again—she's spent much of the past few months in a New Orleans hospital for treatment of a severe strep throat and accompanying complications—however she'll enjoy the holidays as she has a sister-in-law, Mrs. R. A. Center of Chattanooga, Tenn. We should have known something was wrong when one of our favorite 'boy friends', Mr. Clem Penrose, when he failed to keep a 'date' last Monday a week ago, however we were stood up of necessity as he was in Hancock General with what is at least a 'rich man's ailment', ulcers. He's now recuperating at home, but we'll suggest that his many friends call before visiting him as he needs lots of rest to hasten his recovery.

Mr. Freddie and Mrs. Gerstner popped into Clermont for a brief visit Saturday—their main purpose being to distribute gifts to a needy family.

Polly and James McConnell will have their usual house full for the holidays—in addition to daughter June and Van O'Guinn and children from Morgan City, Shirley and Jimmy McConnell and Sharon from New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dalvo of Muncie, Indiana and Mrs. Valerie Ahearn of Atlanta, Georgia, will also be their guests.

Sounds corny, but this tale is truly one for the birds. Joe Rousseau reports looking aloft last Friday and spotting what appeared to be a large crow wearing a parachute. . . . the crow dropped the object and it fell to the ground in Joe's back yard. . . turning out to be a baby blanket which had been snatched from Gladys Johnson's clothes line having been placed there by her visiting daughter Doris Road, the blanket belonging to her four month old daughter. The sturdy bird had flown with the cover for a good half mile before giving up his burden!

Teen Times

Well, kiddies—it's like this— from what we can gather you're going to be much too occupied to do a lot of reading this week and to be perfectly honest, we're much too busy to waste time searching for your elusive little news carriers, so we'll pass on to you just what few items have literally fallen into our lap and state that we sincerely hope you're enjoying your holidays and all that sort of thing!

Must comment that we agreed with one teen-ager who was wondering when they would come out with Santa Claus Twist or Limbo Under the Mistletoe, on a record. However, we just noted a group listening intently to a couple of selections even worse than imagined. . . we're referring to the poor man's version of Jambalaya, supposedly made seasonal by titles: Pappa Noel and Rock Around the Christmas Tree—ye god!

One of the larger affairs of last week was BayHigh's Christmas dance, but we'll have to save particulars 'til next week as we've tried to reach several who attended for a report and get nothing but busy signals! Lynn Rose, a student nurse at Charity Hospital, is enjoying a three week Christmas vacation.

Jimmy Giametta apparently keeps telephone wires hot between here and Picayune. . . his current heart interest being Charlotte Davis of that city.

Is it true that Karen Williams has the largest senior ring in town, or any other town for that matter?

Kathleen Maloney is in line for congratulations having been awarded a blue ribbon for her kitchen door arrangement at the Junior Garden Club show last week.

Charlie Brown, Jr., is justifiably proud of the junior varsity letter given him at Stanislaus awards banquet last Thursday night.

Linda Herbig of New Orleans is spending Christmas holidays at her Clermont Harbor summer home.

ROCKS VS. FRANKLIN
St. Stanislaus Rocks vs. Franklin's sumo cage activity last night in Algiers, La., facing Benjamin Franklin High School. Brother Ralph's quintet was idle during the last week. A return engagement with Ben Franklin is set for Friday night in Stanislaus gym.

Nip Bay High, Pass

Jo Mary returns to lineup, SJA romps

Spurred by the return to action of Jo Mary Arduques, St. Joseph Academy defeated Bay High 51-48 last Wednesday, then upset heavily-favored Pass Christian 36-37 in Pass Christian Saturday night.

Jo Mary, star SJA forward, scored a n amazing 43 points to lead the Gold Jays past Bay High in the St. Joseph gymnasium. Her scoring feat was even more sensational seeing as though she hadn't played in two weeks because of injuries and that practiced only one time during that period.

Patsy Carver paced the Tigrettes with 22 points, but SJA guards, especially Jane Perry and Ellen Colson, played good defensive ball and were a big hand in the Gold Jay victory.

St. Joseph also won the junior varsity contest, claiming a 37-36 victory when Oppie Morrison sank a foul toss in the final second of play to break a tie. Oppie led the scoring with 15 points and Marlene Morel added 12. Sherlyn Cochran scored 14 and Pat Perduaro 12 for Bay High.

Jo Mary Arduques again led the Gold Jays in their upset triumph over Pass Christian, scoring 22 points. She was backed by Sue Porter who, hitting 100 per cent of her shots, tallied 12. Carolyn Scarborough scored 15 in a losing cause. St. Joseph coach Mrs. Joseph Colson praised the work of all three starting guards in the victory. SJA will return to action Thursday, Jan. 4, against St. Martin in Bay St. Louis.

BATTLE ON THE BOARDS - Bay High's Ross Maurici (4) and Hancock North Central's Jimmy Favre (33) battle for a rebound during last Thursday's game. Also fighting for the ball are Ben Ladner (22) of North Central and Bay High's Ted Thomas (10).

SUPER MARKET

A Golden Harvest

A recent survey indicates that the Gulf Coast has been reaping a harvest in oysters which were much in favor the past season in Northern and Eastern markets and are increasing in popularity.

On account of an excessive oyster mortality on the Atlantic Seaboard, due to disease and hurricanes, a measure has been passed in Congress authorizing public grants to states for research and development of disease resistant oyster strains on a 50-50 basis. The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to acquire brood stock and distribute it for planting in spawning beds. Participating areas in the distribution must pay one-third of the cost.

As scientists look more to the oceans to feed the world's increasing population, students of sea life predict that before the turn of the next century, a great majority of the world's masses will be depending on the sea for its livelihood. Explorers of ocean beds in the Pacific find vegetable and animal life teeming miles beneath the surface.

Many oceanographic projects are under way to investigate the ocean's resources to provide food, raw materials and fresh water to meet the increasing needs of multiplied millions of people. By the year 2000 — barring a nuclear war — there will be two people in the world to be fed for every one now.

Mississippi is fully awake to its opportunities and responsibilities as it looks to the sea to yield its wealth for the use of mankind. The state administration and Marine Conservation Commission are to be congratulated on their constructive efforts to rebuild the seafood industry.

With multiple streams flowing into our Gulf Coast waters, ours is one of the world's most fertile feeding grounds for the propagation of fish, shellfish and oysters. With enlightened leadership and wholehearted cooperation we could be gathering golden harvests from sound and sea for many years to come.

Happy hours

New Year's sports bonanza

Well, the football bowl season has arrived—in full force. The "minor" post-season annuals are over and done with, and football fans can now look forward to the "Big Six", all set for the long New Year's weekend.

The Gator Bowl opens the program on Saturday, and will probably come up with one of the better bowl games. Played in Florida, the Gator Bowl has become firmly established as one of the top games.

Penn State is the favorite in the Gator Bowl, while Florida furnishes the opposition. Florida's been a strange team all season—one week they score six touchdowns against supposedly tough opposition, and the next week they can't do a thing. The Gators have the worst record of any of the major bowl participants.

Penn State will depend upon a solid running attack built around halfback Roger Kochman. The Gators will pass more with Tom Shannon, a lefty who started the season behind three experienced and well-known offensive quarterbacks, doing most of the pitching.

The game will be seen Saturday afternoon over CBS-TV (Channels 4 and 5). Our choice: Penn State.

NFL championship

Sunday the National Football League Championship game takes over the spotlight. A rematch of last year's title game will take place as the Green Bay Packers invade New York to play the New York Giants.

The Giants were humiliated last December 37-0 in Green Bay, and don't think they've forgotten it. All season long, the Giants have been reminded and are really seeking revenge.

The Packers have the best-balanced team around. Fullback Jim Taylor and halfbacks Paul Hornung and Tom Moore supply the rushing attack, and quarterback Bart Starr, when given protection, is a deadly short passer. Quarterback Y. A. Tittle's long bombs paced the Giants to the eastern crown. Tittle likes to throw to Del Shofner, Frank Gifford, and Joe Walton.

As we said, the Giants want revenge. They'll never get it, though—the Packers are just too strong.

At the Orange Bowl

Tuesday's first game is the Orange Bowl classic in Miami, where President John F. Kennedy will be among the spectators. The Orange Bowl will start at 12 noon, Bay St. Louis time, and will be televised over ABC-TV (Channels 3, 12, and 13).

Alabama represents the Southeastern Conference in the game, while Big Eight champion Oklahoma hopes to take home a victory to the southwest. The Orange Bowl matches two of the greatest coaches around. Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma mentor, is one of President Kennedy's fitness program leaders, and is a highly-respected coach. Bryant has built a powerhouse at Alabama, and is noted for teaching hard-nosed bruising football.

Quarterback Joe Namath, linebacker Lee Roy Jordan and back Cotton Clark are the Alabama men to watch. Oklahoma, vastly improved since losing two of their first three, depends on the roll out option plays of quarterback Monte Deere.

We expect this to be the least interesting of the four New Year's games, and pick Alabama by at least two touchdowns.

Rebels vs. Razorbacks

The Sugar Bowl should be one of the best. Mississippi's undefeated and untied Rebels are up against some tough opposition in Arkansas. The game in New Orleans will start at 1 p.m. Television coverage will be over NBC (Channels 2, 6 and 10).

Again, the quarterbacks are the big stars. Arkansas has Billy Moore, a tremendous runner and excellent passer. The Rebels counter with Glynn Griffing, similar to Moore in that he can run as well as pass. Fullback Billy Joe Moody heads the Arkansas ground game, while halfback Chuck Morris likes to sweep and for Johnny Vaughn's eleven.

Defensively the Rebs have the better of it, with tackles Jim Dunaway and Jim Roberts sporting over 500 pounds of muscle between them.

The '63 Sugar Bowl should be close, but Ole Miss looks like the victor here.

Deadlock at Dallas?

The Cotton Bowl also offers a top attraction. LSU and Texas both have good lines and both have habits of winning games by the slimmest of margins.

Fullback Ray Poage and halfbacks Tommy Ford and Jerry Cook lead a devastating Texas ground game. The Steers can and will pass, with quarterbacks Tommy Wade, Johnny Gering, and Duke Carlisle doing the throwing.

Halfbacks Jerry Stovall and Danny LeBlanc are the top LSU offensive threats and quarterbacks Jimmy Field and Lynn Amadee like to run. Both can throw but inadequate receiving is a handicap. Stovall also is the leading pass catcher.

Defensively, guard Johnny Treadwell and linebacker Pat Culppepper are among Texas' best. Tackle Fred Miller is one of many rugged LSU defensive experts.

The game in Dallas will be televised over CBS (Channels 4 and 5). We'll take LSU, but have a sneaking suspicion this one might be a tie.

Where the two two meet

The Rose Bowl, granddaddy of them all, matches the country's top two teams, Southern California and Wisconsin. The game, set to start at 4 p.m., will be televised over NBC (Channels 2, 6, and 10). We'll stick with the Californians.

Quarterbacks Pete Beathard and Bill Nelson like to pass to All-American Hal Badalo for USC gains. Ron Vanderkelen is the big surprise for Wisconsin—he can throw with the best of them.

So, now, let's sit back in our arm chairs and enjoy the biggest sports week of the year!

Alliston named for honorable mention

Woody Alliston, former Bay High football star, received honorable mention on the Mississippi Junior College all-star team, chosen last week by the league coaches.

Alliston, voted the outstanding lineman in the Gulf Coast Conference in 1960 while leading Bay High to a leap title, was one of this season's stars for Pearl River Junior College, an equally one of the state's top JC grid powerhouses.

Three PRC players were named All-State, and four more joined Alliston in the honorable mention bracket.

Hawks run away with Biloxi DOM

Hancock North Central downed Martindale 77-37 Saturday night to win the annual Biloxi March of Dimes Basketball Tournament, which included some of Mississippi and Alabama's top cage squads.

Coch Billy Sills' Hawks rolled over three opponents to win the championship, and two players were named to the All-Tournament team. Tall junior Berlin Lader and rugged center Lionel Hoda joined two Meridian players and one Pascagoula representative on the All-Tournament quintet.

Bay boxers meet McComb here Saturday

Another large boxing card is on tap Saturday night at the National Guard Armory where Bay St. Louis boxers will face McComb. The matches, under the direction of local trainer Buck Price, will begin at 8 p.m.

A special finale is planned for the 10-12 bout schedule. Jerry Lott, SAAU champion from New Orleans, will oppose Joe Guice of Biloxi, one of the coast's top boxers. T. J. Foyard of Bay St. Louis will fight in the semi-final attraction.

Dudley Corver, champion of years past, will be a special guest at Saturday's matches.

rounded out North Central scoring with nine markers.

The Hawks led at every quarter stop, holding 17-15, 38-33, and 58-50 advantages.

Defending tournament champion Vigor, Ala., was eliminated by North Central in semifinal competition 48-39 on the strength of a third quarter rally. The Hawks fell behind 12-8 after one period and were knotted 19-19 at halftime, before outscoring Vigor 17-9 in the decisive third stanza.

Richard Cuevas and Berlin Lader scored 14 each to lead the Hawks. Eugene Lader added 10 points; Hoda eight, and Favre two.

The Hawks had no trouble with Laurel, their opening-round opponent, whipping the Tornado 63-37. The Hancock County quintet pushed ahead 14-8 in the first period, extended their lead to 16 at halftime, and led 48-25 entering the final quarter.

Eugene Lader netted a point honors, collecting 19 while eight teammates were also breaking into the scoring column. North Central is taking two weeks off for the holidays, returning to action Jan. 4 at Ocean Springs.
